Excerpt: . chapter V Fort McMurray to Smith s Landing on the Slave River I The Orahame I Beauty of Northern Twilights I Fort Chippewyan i The Slave River: The Peace River Basin. We found the Grahame a much larger and more comfortable boat than the Midnight Sun, though constructed on the same lines, both being flat-bottomed craft and propelled by stern wheels. It was late in the afternoon of another very hot day, July 2, when we resumed our journey, and sitting on the deck, I watched a panorama of rare beauty unrolled to view as we descended the river. The Clearwater mingled its contents slowly and reluctantly with those of the turbid Athabaska. Islands clothed with green spruce receded from view as others appeared in the distance. It was after seven o clock in the evening, when we left McMurray and yet we...
