Ditto Ink. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 150 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.3in. There seems to be a shortage of real heroes today. At least in the public eye, there seems to be a dearth of people who live their lives with integrity, true to their own ideals and the ideals of this country. Perhaps that is why we must learn to look at the stories of the real people who live nearby. It might be your dentist, your travel agent, or the person who lives next door. That is where the true heroes will be found. 11-11: The Carl Fyler Story, is one example of such a story. Dr. Carl Fyler's story is one of a true American. His roots run deep in this country, as his family is one of the founding families of the nation. The Fyler family immigrated to this country in 1630, and have been history makers ever since. There is a long and proud line of Fyler family members that have defended and grown this country from the beginning. Out of this stream came Major Carl Fyler, a well-known and respected B-17 bomber pilot from World War II. Carl flew with the Mighty Eighth Air Force's Hell's Angels. After 25 plus hazardous missions, Carl and his crew were shot down over Bremen, Germany on November 29th, 1943. Carl ended up as a prisoner of war in the infamous Stalag Luft 1, where he spent 510 days before returning to the United States, a changed man. There are, of course, many men and women who shared in this story of courage, loyalty and heroism. Understandably, the war affected some in a negative way, but Carl's strength, courage and beliefs did not waiver. He too struggled with the after effects of his experiences, but in the end, he...
